

ELEVATION & RELIEF MAP OF MADHESH PROVINCE

Central Terai Plains, Nepal · SRTM 1 Arc-Second Hillshade & Hypsometric Tint

Elevation (meters above sea level) · max 877 m

Nepal — Province Location

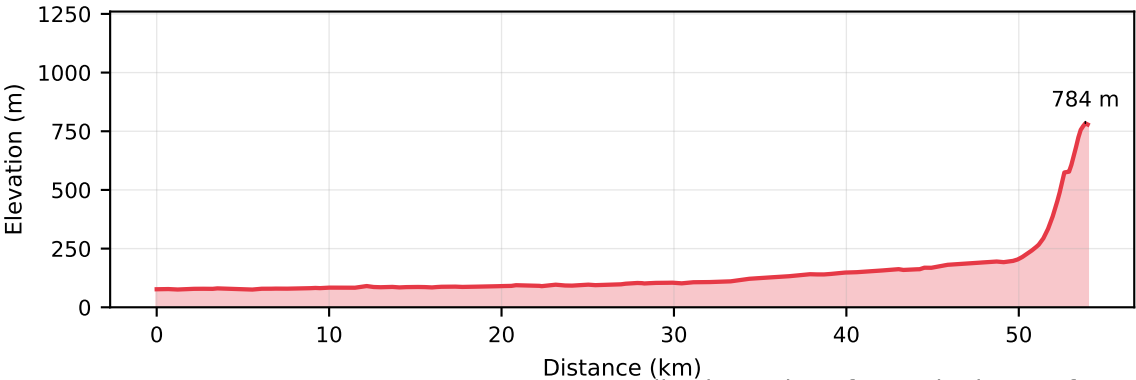

Lake / Pond

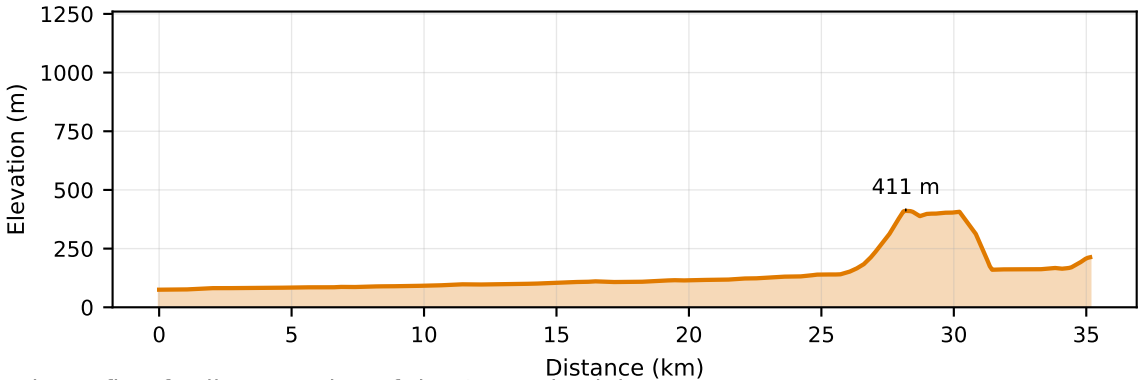

Data source: SRTM 1 Arc-Second Global DEM, NASA/USGS (resampled ≈ 300 m) · Administrative boundary: MoFAGA, via opentechcommunity/map-of-nepal (CC BY 4.0) · Projection: UTM Zone 45N (EPSG:32645)
Rivers & water bodies: Nepal Watercourses (1:25K-50K), Govt. of Nepal, via OCHA/HDX · Map prepared September 2026

Profile A - A' · 85.24°E, South → North

Profile B - B' · 86.26°E, South → North

Madhesh Province forms the heart of Nepal's Terai — a flat, fertile extension of the Gangetic Plain and the country's most densely populated and agriculturally productive region, rising gently from the Indian border in the south toward the low Siwalik (Chure) foothills along its northern edge.